

This course covers advanced motor controls theory and application, control transformers, and specialty applications. Teach how to draw one-line diagram, introduce symbols, devices and how the operation of these items can control the motors. Go over NEC 430 for the motor control application!