

Jim Rogers has over 50 years of experience in the electrical profession is a licensed Journeyman and Master Electrician, a nationally certified Electrical Inspector and is an Associate Electrical Engineer. He has managed the Massachusetts Electrical Board and serves on both state and national code committees.

Jim is the chair of NEC Code Making Panel 4 for the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) which has purview over photovoltaic systems and other alternative energy systems. He currently instructs for the International Association of Electrical Inspectors (IAEI) and the NFPA. He has previously taught for the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) as well as an Adjunct Professor at the Benjamin Franklin Institute of Technology in Boston.

In addition, he has over 35 years of experience in the fire service and currently holds the rank of Assistant Chief as well as serving as the department investigator and Team Leader for the County Fire Investigation Team.

Jim is a nationally Certified Fire Investigator and Certified Fire and Explosion Investigator as well as a state certified Fire Inspector.