

Craig Weston, Blunovus

Some say Craig Weston shows up as a compassion-driven, authentic, thought-provoking, change-maker who speaks on proactively addressing mental health and addiction in the workplace and how meaningful connection is key to emotional prosperity.

Craig is Chief Relationship Officer of Blunovus, a human connection company, and the Blunovus Care & EAP Plus Initiative, He has a passion to serve others and connect organizations and their people with a meaningful support solution in an effort to help support employees and their loved ones in their moments of need, thus becoming happier and more productive at work and at home.

Craig is known for his authentic and vulnerable style, where his blend of stories, humor, and creativeness entertains and inspires audiences to think and do different things. His goal is to not have people just hear what was said but FEEL the impact.

Craig is a huge baseball fan having coached High School Baseball for 15 years, he is a huge New York Yankee fan. Craig has a beautiful wife, 3 children, and 7 grandchildren who he has a "NEXT LEVEL" love for.
