

Curriculum Vitae

Clayton F. Abernathy, M.Ed, CUSA

Education:

Associate of Science-Electronic Technology- Oklahoma State University
Bachelors of Science Industrial Physics / University of Central Oklahoma
Bachelors of Science in Industrial Safety / University of Central Oklahoma
Master in Adult Education (M.Ed) with emphasis in Industrial Safety / minor in Adult Education, University of Central Oklahoma

Certifications:

Certified Utility Safety Administrator, (CUSA)
National Safety Council

Occupation: Safety Consultant-

Principle Owner: American Eagle Safety Services

Retired: OGE Energy Corporation 42 year's service

Qualifications/Experience:

Electric Power Industry 42 years, OGE Energy Corp, includes 20 years in corporate safety, health and environmental dept. His position was Sr. Occupational Consultant Safety and was responsible for occupational safety related issues for the corporation. He promoted the prevention of occupational injuries by developing and coordinating company occupational safety and accident prevention programs. Monitor compliance with federal, state, local and company safety regulations and policies. Develop company wide safety training programs and review/prepare safety training aids for use throughout the corporation. He the primary source for company activities associated with NESC and NFPA 70E specific to electric arc exposure. He was instrumental in developing the electrical safety programs in power generation, transmission, and distribution and facilities maintenance divisions of the company.

Clayton is an Adjunct Instructor University of Central Oklahoma /Industrial Safety Degree program, teaching industrial electrical safety. He is a member of the Academic Advisory Committee at Oklahoma State University-OKC campus for the Wind Technology program.

He has been a speaker for the Oklahoma Safety Council, OKC ASSE PDC, and Region 3 ASSE PDC. The topics have included but not limited to LOTO (lockout Tagout), How National Consensus Standards influence regulations, Electrical Safety NFPA 70E, Hearing Conservation, and Record Keeping.

Clayton served as a corresponding member of the National Occupational Research Agenda for the Utility and Warehouse section for the National Institute of Occupational Health (NIOSH).

Clayton is principle owner of American Eagle Safety Services located in Edmond, Ok. The company provides general industry safety consultations and training. He specializes in electrical applications with particular application and attention to NFPA 70E. He clients include, Tinker Field Air Force Base, WW Steel-OKC, FAA Center-OKC, American Air lines maintenance center, Tulsa, OK, DXP Precision Instruments as well as other businesses located in Oklahoma.

Curriculum Vitae / Clayton Abernathy (continued)

Professional Associations:

Professional Member ASSE OKC Chapter
President OKC Chapter ASSE 1997-1998
Delegate to House of Delegates ASSE 1998-2004
Safety Professional of the Year 2003 for OKC Chapter ASSE
OGE Energy Corp. correspondent to Edison Electric Institute 1996 to present
National Fire Protection Association (NFPA)
ASTM International, voting member of F13.30 and F18.1500 subcommittees
EEI representative to ASTM F13.30 (ANSI Z41) 1995 to present
Oklahoma Department of Labor Worker Safety Policy Council-ASSE Representative -1997-99, 2004 - present
Board of Directors – Oklahoma Safety Council- 2001-present
Chairman Board of Directors Oklahoma Safety Council 2006-2009
Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE)

Community Activities:

Member 1st Presbyterian Church Edmond, OK
Safe Kids Coalition of Oklahoma
Past officer of Home Owners Association- Eagle Crest Addition
Siloam #276 Masonic Lodge – Past Master 1982
Guthrie Scottishrite Southern Jurisdiction of USA- 33 Degree 2001

E-Contact:

clayton@e-hazard.com