

INSTRUCTOR PROFILE

TERRY LEDBETTER

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- 1999- Present Senior Instructor, Electrical Codes & Safety
- Presents a variety of classes throughout the U.S. and Canada.
- Evaluated and redesigned the QEW program for Gamesa Wind Turbine.
- Completed development of safety course for American Airlines and U.S. Airways designed to merge the two safety policies to meet NFPA70E standards.
- 4 year electrical apprenticeship at Allison Transmission (GM).
- Skilled trades training director for UAW at GM.
- Implemented training program designed to combine 32 classifications down to 7. (Electrical, Machine repair, Millwright, Power house, Waste treatment, Instrumentation, Tool and die)
- Expanded the Predictive/Preventive Maintenance with proper training in vibration analysis and infrared thermography.
- Conducted an extensive needs and task analysis for a new multi-million dollar product line known as "World Transmission," and subsequent implementation including a staged rollout of training courses for upgrading high skilled positions.

"Excellent instructor and great visual aids. This class is really teaching electrical safety!"
- Square D

EDUCATION AND TRAINING

- 4 year apprenticeship
- Train the trainer
- Numerous skills enhancement classes related to employee training and development
- 22 years of coordinating related development and delivery of OEM courses

NTT PARTIAL CLIENT LIST

- American Airlines
- FAA
- Square D
- Cal Energy Corporation
- Mirant Corporation
- Gamesa Wind
- New United Motor Manufacturing