

Lisa Stevens is a Storm Water Specialist at the Utah Department of Environmental Quality - Division of Water Quality. She has worked at the Division of Water Quality for over three years in both the construction and industrial storm water programs. She has a Master's degree in Environmental Engineering from Colorado School of Mines. Prior to DWQ, Lisa worked as an environmental consultant and an environmental compliance specialist for mining operations.